

Money, Politics & Maine

To make progress on the issues we care about, we need a government that listens to our concerns. Today, too many people feel that their voices are being drowned out by the wealthy special interests who bankroll campaigns.

It doesn't have to be this way - and Mainers have already made big strides toward a government truly of, by and for the people!

Maine Citizens for Clean Elections is hitting the road this fall, talking with groups large and small about the next steps for our democracy, and empowering Mainers to take action! Our Money, Politics and Maine presentation explains how money in politics affects our lives and how Clean Elections is putting power back in the hands of Maine voters.

We need your help to get this crucial information to more Mainers this fall.
Can you invite MCCE to your town?

Here are three ways to get involved:

1. Host a House Party	Bring together 10 of your friends, and MCCE will present a fun, informative evening or afternoon.
2. Invite MCCE to Your Group	Are you a member of the Rotary, Lions Club, a church group, or other organization? Invite MCCE to address your next meeting!
3. Help to Organize a Public Forum	Work with other volunteers in your area to host a public event to educate your neighbors about money in politics.

Contact Anna at anna@mainecleanelections.org or 207-252-9248 for more information about each of these opportunities.

Thank you!
