Enemy of the American people?

To the editor:

I am currently writing a book on Dr. (Punyamurtula) Kishore, the Massachusetts model, and the denial of justice that affected the story in Massachusetts need to be told, and it will.

It is important for you to keep growing numbers of people joining the ranks of Dr. Kishore's patients in Massachusetts. People didn't see through the truth of fake news and distorted which his (corporate, well-enemies had engineered.

Before the Massachusetts general disrupted treatment for Kishore's patients in Massachusetts, it was employing 370 employees at 52 sites, and had a yearly loss of $9.9 million. His extraordinary success was remarkable. It is at-home detox, with a component of monitoring the progress of patients. Members and coaches ends in sobriety in the month program, at the rate of $10K per year and per person. The success rate using the benchmark of sobriety maintained between 35 and 50% after one year. The success rate is lower in a program of state-run or -authorized "rehabilitation clinics" is lower than 5% and the cost of the same is much higher to the users, insurance companies, and taxpayers.

Since your newspaper is reporting on the National Health and Healing Institute, it behooves your outfit to report the information about his biographic practice, his endorsement against him (as he presented in this case against the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Bringing to this extraordinary m
