

Update on Cushing v McKee

United States Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer has denied the Cushing plaintiffs' application for a writ of injunction in the case challenging Maine's campaign finance laws. It will show upon the docket sheet only; the docket number is 10A-362. There is no separate written order.

Maine Citizens for Clean Elections is waiting to hear whether the plaintiffs will attempt to renew the application with a different Justice. Such renewals are allowed in some instances but are not favored by the Court.

MCCE believes that this should be considered a definitive answer from the Court and remains cautiously optimistic.
